Bridget™ vs. Generic AI Models

Bridget — Finance Built

Reads Intent, Not Keywords

Classifies what the user is looking for (discovering, trading, learning) not just the surface level inquiry

Auditable & Explainable

Every intent signal and CTA decision is logged and traceable by session, tenant, and variant. Defensible for compliance.

Finance-native by design

Built on BridgeWises fundamental and alternative data and controlled through MLM design to ensure accuracy

Made for Your Platform

Made to inform platform on the investor journey while providing user support

Generic AI

✗ Keyword-level Matching

Generic models can over emphasize emotional language spikes, producing noisy signal

✗ Compliance Drift

Outputs and disclaimers vary and hallucinate, making legal sign-off risky and hard to maintain

✗ General Purpose Use

Not built for finance or personal goals, can only serve to inform users but no concept of the intent behind the conversation

✗ Rigid Framework

Real customization would require manual maintenance
